CALL FOR DATA TO BETTER TRAIN SERVICE

Calls have been made upon all towns located along the lines of the Milwaukee railroad and upon the Chicago and Northwestern, having connections with Milwaukee, to send all data available on the poorness of passenger train service to Don Mowbray, chairman of a committee to investigate changes necessary to improve the service. Roger J. Cunningham, Janesville, a member of this committee, is close touch with Mr. Mowbray. It is expected that by the latter part of this month a meeting will be called to make final arrangements for taking the problem up further with the railroad and the railroad commission.

ing prices, anywhere in this city, and the future sure looks bright and that means increased real estate values and prices.

But when buying, go at the proposition in a businesslike manner. Don't start out on a "wild goose chase," trusting to luck in finding a bargain. Go where all the bargains are to be found—read the real estate classified pages in the Gazette. Then list all the properties that seem to suit you from the descriptions and prices given and then have the places shown you by the dealer.

In this way you are pretty sure to make a very wise and fortunate purchase.

TEAM WORK IN CAMPAIGN NEEDED

Candidate and Manager Should Get Together to Save Getting Wires Crossed.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1920, The Janesville Gazette.

Columbus, O., Aug. 3.—Team-work is hardly a new thing in the early stages of the national campaign, but it is a thing which the candidates and their respective managers—but nevertheless there are some glaring examples already of managers in the Republican and Democratic camps.

On the same day, for instance that "candidate" Harding authorized a statement calling the democrats to task for being willing to accept contributions of more than $1,000, and hinting at some "investigation" of the treasurer of the Republican National Committee, Fred W. Upham of Chicago, publicly expressing the fear that the new chairman of the committee would be changed before the campaign is over, and contributions in excess of $1,000 be accepted.

Cox Getting Off Track
Turn, then, to the democratic camp. A few weeks ago, Candidate Cox hastened to the White House and talked things over with the president. He was issued by both saying a perfect understanding had been reached. A few days later Homer S. Cummings, vetting chairman of the democratic national committee, visits Washington and the president spends an hour with him. Two days later comes the democratic national committee, who is bombarded by the reporters and naively lists a few sentences to the effect that there is no "understanding" between the president and the committee. Then George White doesn't get an invitation to the White House which instead of ignoring the situation, Mr. White's remarks takes to task and keeps him outside the precincts of the presidential sanction.

Need Coaching on Statements
The truth of the matter is that Mr. White wasn't trying to give an impression of divergence between the views of the president and those of the committee. He was saying that the democratic nominee is the leader of the party and is doing his own thinking and that such of the committee as may survive the political campaign are the results of conviction and not political coercion. The White House is a good deal more than a "stage" where things are said for the sake of a political campaign as will be clearly demonstrated when the speech of acceptance is made public. The wise thing from the viewpoint of party harmony and strategy would have been to warmly welcome George White just the same, and thus keep political foes from taking advantage as they did of apparent friction.

Campaign Management
Management is commonly said to have cost Hughes the presidency in 1916. The tactics of the republican managers are already causing comment. The tactics of the democratic candidate tied to the front porch has been severely criticized. One republican national committee member has experience in politics. He is the writer recently that he didn't believe Harding could win if he stayed on the front porch. The manager of the democratic candidate out on the stump has resulted in a temporary compromise. Chairman Hays has decided to let Senator Harding talk in the big city—New York, Chicago, Boston. There is serious talk of adding Denver and San Francisco to the list. Unquestionably there would have been a change of plans sooner and Mr. Harding would have been permitted by his campaign committee to make an extended tour except for fear of the taunts of the democrats who, it was thought, might gleefully claim they had driven Harding from the front porch.

Front Porch or on a Tour
But the more thoughtful leaders, who know that campaigns are not a frank reveal of plan so that the republican candidate, who is a splendid mixer and makes a fine impression when he mingles with the crowd, might see more of the electorate. The front porch campaign was originally championed because it was supposed to keep the candidate from saying indiscreet things on the stump but it is a serious question whether infinitely more damage will not be done by front porch talk than by the work of a group of press agents who see to it that a constant flow of news proceeds from the political visitors and who have already persuaded Senator Harding to indulge in a backling campaign. Republican leaders outside of Madison are wondering whether or that isn't less dignified after all than a speaking trip would be in which there would be no question about the authenticity or origin of the statements made by the candidate from day to day.

Question On Strategy
It would not be surprising if in another week or two the republican campaign plan in this respect were revised. For the present the speech by Governor Cox is awaited in the anxious hope that all the questions he has been asking. The wiser strategy would have been the Harding viewpoint would have been lighted by the democratic nominee although while the latter worked on his speech of acceptance. Advantages, could have been taken of the three week interval to outline indelible his constructive

First Consolidation of Rural Schools Affected

Consolidation was out Monday evening in school districts 2 and 3, town of Rock, after several days discussion which gives these districts the distinction of being the first in Rock county to vote a consolidated district.

An animated meeting representative of the two districts and the town board was held last evening in the school house of district 3 and petition of several voters. Supt. O. D. Antidel, Robert Cunningham, and Willis Hayes from this city were in attendance. After it was decided to consolidate the two districts, district 2 being notable as the Frances Willard school, Aug. 12 was set as the date for the first meeting of the new district. At that time officers will be elected and other business transacted. The new district will be called district 3. There was some discussion upon the advisability of moving the school house of district 3, which will be used, at least the coming school year, one half mile west of the present location. This site has also been proposed as the site for the new building.

Town and district officers who attended the meeting were: George Campbell, chairman, Michael Finley, and Charles Klimes, town board; W. J. Knapp, clerk, M. Fanning, secretary, and J. H. Fanning, treasurer, school board of district 2; M. J. Dixon, clerk, John Bushfield, director, and Frank Beldash, treasurer, district 3. Mr. Dixon said today that several other districts in the county are awaiting consolidation, and that the expected some action before the school begins this fall.

ADVANCE IN MILK PRICE PREDICTED

Distributing Companies Paying Higher Rates to Farmers—Drought Lowers Quality.

The price of milk in Janesville will advance one or two cents per quart in the next two weeks. This is the prediction of local dealers.

Milk is unprecedently high, selling to the distributing companies at the rate of $3.70 per 100 pounds. This means an increase of two cents per quart to the dealers. The advance of summer has seen a monthly increase in the wholesale price of milk with out a resultant increase in the retail price. The June price was $2.75 per 100; July $3.25; and August $3.70.

According to Roy Merrick of the Merrick Dairy, the great increase in the wholesale price of milk will necessitate a raise in the retail price. At present we are paying about 8 1/2 cents per quart and our delivery charges are about 3 cents per quart. Considering the cost of hauling, bottling, and the fact that the too slim margin is left. The way we shall perhaps do to meet the increase is to raise the price per quart one cent, making the price 15 cents per quart and raising the price on pints two cents. The raise must necessarily come soon.

This statement was borne out by Henry J. Casey of the Janesville Pure Milk Co., who also declared that there will be an increase very soon.

The increase in price does not bring a raise in the quality. Reports show that the quality of milk produced below the average. "This is due largely," says R. T. Glasco, county agent, "to the lack of rain, the dry pastures. Farmers are winter food yet the green corn, etc., hence the milk is less in quantity and not so rich."

TWENTY BOYS TAKE SWIMMING LESSONS

The first of the swimming lessons for boys and girls of the city was given yesterday afternoon at the beach. G. H. Linden, the playground and beach director, giving the instructions. Yesterday was for the boys, about 20 in all, and the girls will have their turn today. They will be given regularly for two weeks, at the end of which time all those taking the lessons should know the first rudiments of swimming. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday the boys take lessons, those from 11 to 13 from 2 to 3 and those over 13 from 3 to 4. Girls take lessons on Tuesday, Thursday, those from 11 to 13 from two o'clock until 3, those over 13 from three o'clock until 4.

NEW CREAMERY BUILT ON TERRACE STREET

Located in a new red brick building with up-to-date equipment, all the machinery and the employees working the machines in white, the Rock River Creamery company, North Terrace street, just off West Blue street, will open and start business in the next few days, according to a statement made by the manager, E. M. Patterson, this morning. They had planned to start their business which will be dealing in butter, buttermilk and eggs, several weeks ago, but were delayed in building and express shipments. They will have practically all their milk for making butter shipped in from the stations which they have located in small surrounding towns. Mr. Patterson, who comes here from Springfield, Ohio, is one of three men conducting creameries in Rockford, Freeport and Janesville.

The force of five men will be put on at first, which will probably be doubled. They will do a wholesale and retail business.

BREEDERS SAY SWINE MEN SELL SCRUBS AS FIRST CLASS STOCK

Pres. E. H. Parker, Janesville, of the Wisconsin Duroc-Jersey Breeders' association, attended the meeting of the officials of Wisconsin's swine and stock producing associations, at Madison, Saturday to draw plans for a mass convention of all stock associations in the state.

At this preliminary meeting, objections to stock importation companies were drawn up and submitted to the attorney general. Representatives of various swine selling organizations with offices in Chicago and Milwaukee were summoned to appear before Assistant Attorney General J. P. Baker.

Scrubs as Purebred. The stock and swine producers' associations declare that these importers go into Iowa and Illinois and buy the scrubs of good hogs at low prices, bring them into Wisconsin, and sell them at fancy figures to the farmers, representing them as high class stock. The association objects to this practice because they declare that often even better stock can be secured right in Wisconsin at lower prices.

This plan of selling this imported stock is being followed by several organizations having headquarters in Milwaukee and Chicago.

Parker Makes Statement. Officials of some of Wisconsin's swine and stock producers' associations who have attended the hearings, have presented the attorney general's office with an official statement, setting forth the objections to the same program followed by the companies in question.

This statement is supported by President E. H. Parker and Secretary R. T. Glasco, Janesville, of the Wisconsin Duroc-Jersey Breeders' association; President James Dobson of the Wisconsin Poland China Breeders' association; Secretary P. H. Babcock of the Wisconsin Chester White Breeders' association; and the officials of the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

A VISIT TO THE BEAUTY PARLOR

Well, it's a relief to know that in the midst of business there is beauty. By beauty, I mean, of course, that there is always the thought of the demands of beauty, one's own beauty, to keep one balanced. Mine fortunately is not the kind that needs constant attention. I am on the contrary just a little along and trust to luck and Mother Nature to keep my beauty skin polly, my ruby lips ruby, and those win stars of mine called by the ordinary mortal eyes, as bright as any diamonds.

No matter how hard I work I do not seem to show the effects of same in my appearance which is lucky for me, for I just know that mother would put the kysosh on air and no career if looks were in suffice or hindrained in any way—she's that way. Today, just for fun I hid me to a beauty parlor, between assignments, as it were, and had my face and form thoroughly overhauled.

sort of belated spring cleaning! The lady beautifier found much to be desired in said face and form (they always do), and she started right in to clean up. I went through the whole list of first aids—scalp treatment, face massage, manicure, etc. I was just lazy enough to enjoy all and any attention handed out to me, and I lay back and toiled in that chair in a shameless fashion. Did Ambition urge me to clean up, even at 2 p. m.?

It did not; in fact nothing short of an earthquake could have moved me from my comfortable perch.

On one excuse and then another I dodged, until the lady beautifier asked me in a soft drawl that carried an invitation and a dare in its every inflection, whether I should care to have my eyebrows attended to.

Maybe you can imagine my surprise at the question, for apart from personal feeling on the matter, I have been blessed with two remarkably good eyebrows, as good, at least, as the hand of the Maker intended for me to have, evidently. They are fairly dark, not too thick and well-shaped, and what more could any lady ask for?

Even as she uttered the question a vision of those marvelous and inquiring eyebrows carried by some of the "Polles" girls, and many others renowned beauties of my acquaintance, flashed before me, and I hesitated, for like my favorite writer Nina Fuluam, I too believe in "Anything once," and here was a chance to live up to them! I turned to my wondering look in my eyes—why not? One should be open-minded about these things, and surely if it was merely a matter of continuing to sit dreamily in this chair of mine, and again allow myself to be mimicked, to tenderly, let her go!

Lady Beautifier took me at my word, and without any warning started in. It was but experience—dear me, yes, all of that.

My dear, they just yank 'em out, willy nilly. It's fierce—very. It's more than fierce; it's thing. One just wants to up and smack the face of who who is yanking without a thought. And I nearly did.

Of course, the dame laughed at me and my nerves and regretted me with stories of all the girls of fifteen and sixteen who come in, every week, and go through the same thing. I was neither encouraging nor soothing to my state of mind at that moment. However, there was nothing to be done but to go through with it and submit to these tweekers and their pain, hair by hair, until I was finally considered beautiful as to eyebrows.

I took one resentful look at the results—and horrors! I looked bald and peevish and all wrong. That fifty-cent-a-look, as they have named it, does not suit me—not a little bit. As a contrast, it cramps my style!

RECIPE FOR A DAY.
Butterscotch Pie—Scant cup of brown sugar, two egg yolks, two tablespoons flour, one cup milk and two beatings.

Cook in double boiler till thick. Add one teaspoon vanilla. Fill pie crust with the custard, using the whites for meringue. This makes a delicious dessert.

Bonafide Salt Codfish with Pork Scraps—Cover one pound of boneless codfish with cold water and let it where it will heat gradually; change the water when it gets hot. Change the water four times. Place the fish on the stove shortly after the first and when preparing dinner it is just right to use. Cut one-third pound of salt pork, mixed lean and fat, in half-inch squares, and fry them in a skillet over a moderate heat; when they are golden brown drain water off the fish and shred fish into the skillet with the pork scraps. Keep hot till you serve, but do not cook any more. Season with pepper and salt, if necessary.

Dumplings—Take one cup of cooked macaroni and three or four radishes together, season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. May be mixed with French dressing or may be served plain on crisp lettuce leaves if desired. When one wants a fancy salad it is nice, garnished with slices of hard boiled eggs or slices of radishes.

Fruit Salad—Make two cups of lemon jelly and while cooling, cut celery, pears, cabbage and nuts in small pieces; add to jelly and when jellied serve with whipped cream or salad dressing.

SUMMER DRINKS.
Gingerale Highball—Put two tablespoons finely cracked ice in each highball glass, add one or two teaspoons of brown lime juice or fruit juice with chilled gingerale. Serve at once.

Gingerale Julep—One pint gingerale, one cup of water, three lemons, few sprigs of mint. Boil the water and sugar for 10 minutes and set aside to cool. Add strained lemon juice, gingerale, and pour over half glassful of chopped ice. Garnish with a sprig of mint in each glass. If a little of the mint is bruised it will have a more pronounced mint flavor to the drink.

Gingerale Punch—One cup sugar, one cup strong hot tea, three-quarters cup orange juice, three or four thin slices orange, one-third cup lemon juice, one quart gingerale, maraschino cherries. Pour the hot tea over the sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add fruit juices and strain into a punch bowl over a large piece of ice. Let stand about 20 minutes, add gingerale, orange slices and a few maraschino cherries. Serve immediately.

Iced Coffee with Gingerale—To make this unusual combination, pour one cup of cold coffee into a glass, fill a fourth full of crushed ice, then add a third of a cup of gingerale, stir quickly and serve at once. This is particularly good with cheese sandwiches.

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going to write a letter to the lady who signs herself "Discouraged Being." Dear sister, where there is a will there is always a way. Let me give you some pointers on fixing up your beds. If you have mattresses, empty the knobby exoskeleton and wash the ticks. Buy some nice clean straw, fill your beds with that. Then go to a bake shop and buy four sacks for about ten or fifteen cents apiece. Make sheets out of 100 pound sacks. Also take the fifty-pound sacks, wash them and fill with straw for pillows. The sacks also make good pillow slips and night-dresses for children. My little girl has two made out of them and they wear well.

Be sure to have the children respect their beds just the same as if they cost a hundred dollars apiece. We always have access to water. Haverthorn wash their feet before going to bed and your work will not be torn down as fast as you do it. I have raised seven children with a worthwhile husband and for four years I have done for myself and family. I reared a farm and do the work.

Don't dear sister, blame the rich. You don't know what a struggle it is for them to keep up. They have to perform certain functions to keep up in their class. Don't be too hasty in your condemning them for it will hurt your children. Tell them how good people are rather than how bad. I am wrong, for boys will grow up under that impression and after a while they will say:

"Well, Mr. Brown (or whoever it is) doesn't need this. I'll just keep it or take it." Teach them to have honor and not to complain about what others have.

Read Mark, 14th chapter and 7th verse. Read the whole chapter in fact. Christ will come into your heart more fully and bless your efforts if you try to help yourself and do what you can in the name of the Lord.

I am trying to do my duty to what God has sent me to give me and I have been doubly blessed. I have not given you book knowledge, but I have not told you what I have done myself.

Fix a basket of catables and take your children and go to the country for a day even if you have to walk. Look at the green grass, beautiful trees and remember it is not man's; it all belongs to God. Be thankful you are a mother and a part of God's great work.

FROM A FRIEND.
Thank you for every word you have written. Joy comes from little things and living close to God. Your philosophy has made you see this and enabled you to turn misfortune into blessings.

An ideal of goodness should be presented to all children. This is not done, however, only too often a mother sows seeds of greed and envy in her child's heart. How much better to point out with what each one is blessed than to call attention to how much more someone else apparently has.

All of us should pack our basket and go to the country. Nature gives us new life and new courage and puts us in tune with the infinite.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl twenty years old. About a year ago while I was away from this city I met a young man two years my senior.

I never cared as much about him as he did me. He told me he loved me. Of course I did not love him and could not return it.

Before I came back to this city he gave me his picture with the promise of my sending mine to him. Since I have been home we have stopped corresponding and now I do not know if I should send my picture. He has written to me several times wanting to know what the trouble is.

QUESTION BOX.
Do not send your picture. Write to him explaining that you can never mean anything to him and feel, therefore, that there is no use in going further with the correspondence. At the same time return his picture.

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago, Aug. 3.—Sharp new advances in the price of wheat took place today owing more or less to rumors that European war complications might bring about enlarged demand for food supplies. The United States, Specie, trade continued to broaden, and this morning was materially in excess of demand. A few days ago, the market was nervous, but now something of a reaction.

In later dealings, the market showed a coordinating strength. Increased estimates of French and Italian import requirements coupled in favor of the bulls, and the too did news of urgent inquiries for wheat by the British naval commission. The close was firm, with wheat at 1½¢ higher, with December $2.20 and March $2.17 to $2.22. The close was followed by moderate gains in oats and corn something of a reaction.

The Mystery of Hartley House

CLIFFORD S. RAYMOND
(Copyright by George H. Doran Co.)

The hunter's moon was at full, and the place was luminous in a soft, misty yellow light.

I had tremors, frankly, felt the presence of tangible dangers, unseen and of intangible terrors. I never felt such oppression, doubt, distress and dismay in my life. My mind was on a strange ground. Beyond any stretch I ever knew him to have; and Jed, whom I always dreaded, was following him.

I was not instantly in chase and why I stood worried and indecisive. The only explanation is that I knew, as surely as I could know anything, by reason and conjecture, that whatever was happening that night had happened this same night for a number of years in the past, and that whatever it was, it had direct connection with the secret of the place which Mrs. Sidney so earnestly desired to know.

For these reasons, or upon this instinct, I acted as I did and stood on the porch listening to the unnaturally late whistling of the train and toward the dark woods and thickets which stood at the edge of the yellow moonlight.

The tension was so great that I got a distinct shock when out of this wall of darkness a figure came running into and across the moonlit space toward the house. I knew it must be Jed, and I waited where I stood until he came into the shadow of the house when another figure came out of the dark wall of the thickets and came toward the porch. I saw him, and gasped with astonishment, but recovered myself with wonderful promptness.

"Inside, man, inside, and act natural," he cried. "Come"—taking my arm—"in the office."

"What are you so scared of?" he asked, and so I went, clutching that I did just what I was told.

"Into the office man," he said, still clutching me. "What are you doing abroad? This night of all nights! But no matter. Into the office, and turn on the lights. Turn on the lights, and you'll see not all of them, but some of them."

"He ran to do it himself and was all flutter and activity. Then he ordered me to follow him."

"In this office now, an act natural. You're a man of genius; think of something we could naturally be doing at this hour. What are you doing here? Good Lord, what are you doing here? I could have managed without you. Why did you have to be on the scene? And I can think of nothing!"

"You have severe cramps in the stomach," I said. "It's not to be feared. I'm considering the way you abuse your stomach. I may say you are the only human being I ever was glad to see drinking himself into a fever and a cold."

"I tossed these articles and my coat behind a couch."

"And possibly if you were less clad it might be the illusion."

"Jed hid himself of collar, tie and coat and disposed of them in the same fashion."

"I'm imagining," I said. "We are reasonably convincing as physician and sinner. What are your symptoms?"

"I'm a man of genius!" Jed exclaimed. "Wait a minute."

He ran to the window, concealing himself behind a curtain.

"Jed's mind," he said, as he looked out on the ghastly white lawn. Then he came running back.

"The door had better be opened," he said, and he opened the door to the office open. Then he sat in one of the chairs and began to yawn loudly.

"It's an acute shooting pain, doctor," he said loudly, and then he whispered: "What ought it be?"

I heard the front door open and shut.

"I have often told you," I said with loud professional dignity, "that there is a penalty attached to such habits as yours. Have you any nausea?"

"Sick as I can be with pain," said Jed, growling tremulously.

"I don't mind," he said, aroused. "I said, just loud enough to carry to the person approaching and to sound to him as if it were a normal condition. This is a part of my business here."

I knew Mr. Sidney was standing in the doorway, so I did not. Neither of us betrayed our knowledge until the strange apparition which we knew to be there said:

"Up so late, doctor? Up so late, doctor?"

"Why, Mr. Sidney?" I exclaimed. "He was, indeed, an extraordinary case. He had controlled his voice and his manner. Discipline was fixed in his soul. But he had not controlled his expression. And yet how he tried to preserve the normalities, taken as he was in such a strange circumstance."

"The doctor," he exclaimed again, "my wonder tonight at such an hour!"

"He made a violent effort to keep his composure and succeeded."

"I felt so little, doctor," he said, "and I see so little of the place I love so much, but I took the only chance I had—this wonderful October moon and my faithful physician asleep and off guard, as I thought, to steal out at midnight. But I was not to succeed. He was not to be deceived. He became excited and caused me to have double dread of his tomorrow."

CHARTER XIV.
Dr. Brownell came in the morning and found Mr. Sidney, as was expected, in extreme exhaustion. I explained that our patient had been usual the night prior to his alarming collapse, very animated and that after midnight he had stolen out of the house for a walk about the grounds. I had encountered a convict escaped from the penitentiary and had come back in great excitement.

Indy Smith.—The Rev. Fr. T. Lewis, one of the priests connected with St. Francis hospital, nearly lost his life by drowning while bathing in the Platteau river. Father Lewis, who is not an expert swimmer, was captured too far into the stream. Becoming fatigued, he sank beneath the water. A friend who was swimming with him saved his life.

Samsons Tackle Central State Leaders Tomorrow P. M.

WHITEWATER IS READY TO CARE FOR 7000 FANS

Whitewater is all agog. Will they or won't they, is the question on the lips of the tongues of all the natives up there.

The subject for the conjectures is the game to be played at that town tomorrow afternoon between the Samson Tacklers of this city and the Central State baseball league. Whitewater nuts say they have the ball team in the state of Wisconsin. They believe they are out to clean up the world of semi-pros.

Going to Win
George Berlings, manager of the Samsons, has little to say. "We are going up there to win," is the gist of his comment.

At George Dumont's arm is in shape, he probably will twist the iron men. "It's then Bill Lathrop is to take to the box."

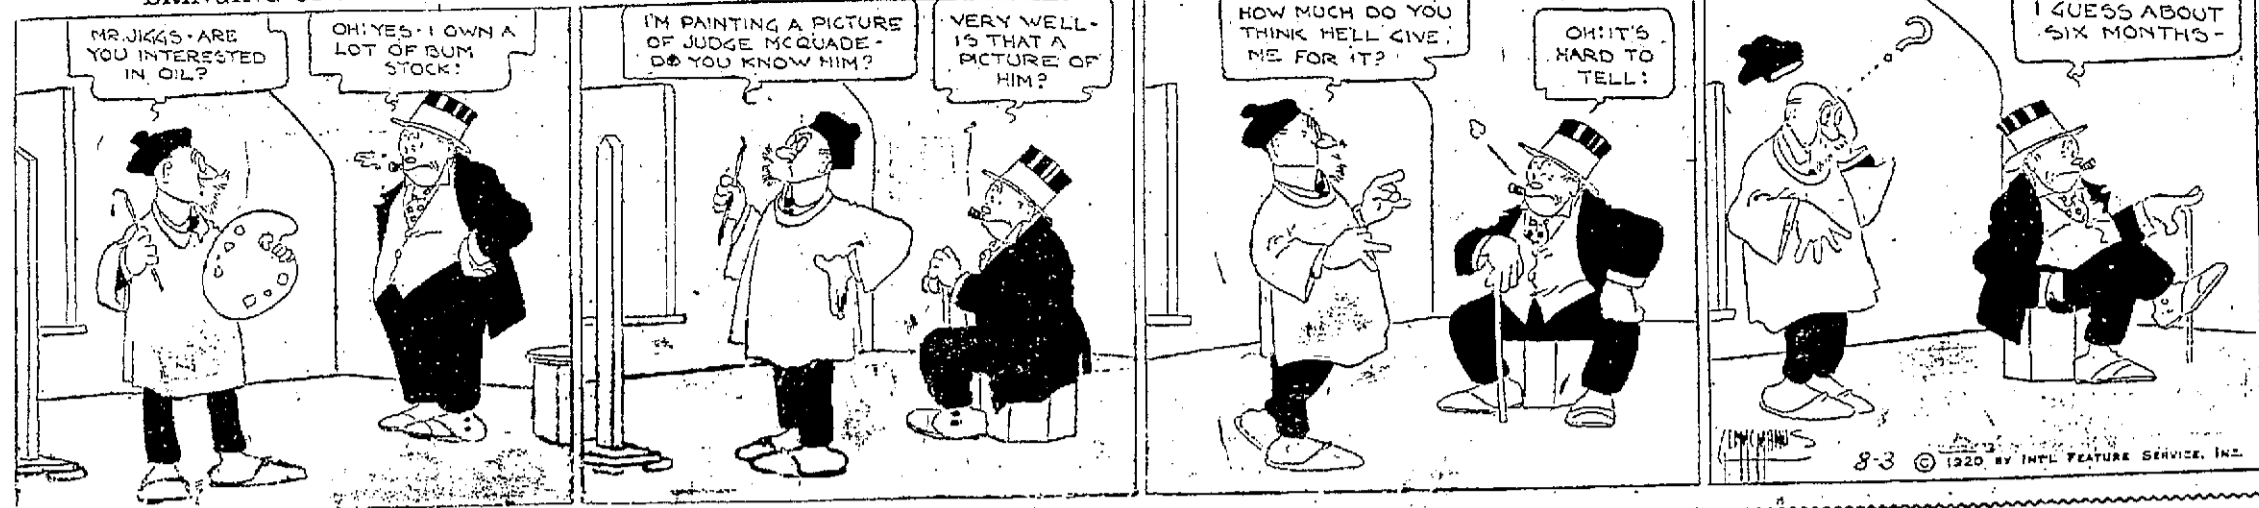

Whitewater depends upon Dodge to hurt them to victory. The Prairie du Sac pitcher is the sensation of the Central league. He is pitched one hit, no run game this season and held all-comers down to the minimum.

Interest Runs High
Mass in great number are planning to attend the game from here. It is promising to hold as much interest for the fans up above as the rivalry between Janesville and Beaver. From the outlook at least 7,000 will view the battle. Whitewater is shutting up shop to celebrate a big field day. Many Port Atkinson people will motor over while the district round about will pour out in crowds.

Seven Road Games
After the Whitewater game, the Samsons will get ready to go on their longest tour so far this season. They will keep their way from the next grounds out until August 22. Next Sunday they will play with the Exton Poundy club at Chicago. They will appear following Thursday at Lawrenceville, Ill., one of the teams in the Industrial league. On the thirteen, they will play at Chicago. On the next day, the Janesville club will play at Vandellia, Ill., a team that has won 15 out of 17 games played. On August 14 and 15, Samsons will play at Decatur, Ill., against the A. B. Staleys. August 16, Perry's bunch will be seen at Port Atkinson, playing the city's team of the Central state league.

Arrangements are now being made for the Samsons and the Fairies to play a couple of games at the Evansville fair, September 10 and 11.

CANADIANS TO BACK ROSS IN CUP DEFENSE

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 3.—Officials of the Royal Nova Scotia yacht squadron today declared they were willing to cooperate with A. C. Ross, Canadian yachtsman, in his plans for capturing the America's cup, but expressed doubt as to the practicability of raising funds by public subscription throughout the dominion to build a challenger with the assistance of all yacht clubs from Nova Scotia to British Columbia.

Nova Scotia yachtsmen estimated the cost of the venture at about $2,000,000 and asserted that to be successful, it must be financed and superintended by one individual. To make it a public issue was to foredoom it to failure, in their belief.

Dempsey signs to fight Billy Miske

Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 3.—The fight between Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, and Billy Miske of St. Paul, Minn., was assured, according to an announcement by Phil Campbell, business manager for the Benton Harbor boxing club today.

Campbell, in his positive statement to the pugilistic following, said he had received word from Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons in New York to the effect that a conference with Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, had resulted in Dempsey's signature to the articles of agreement.

As You Were

By BUCK, Of the Stars and Stripes, A. E. F.

THE DEVIL INSIDE
It was true I'd hardly met her. But it seemed an age or more. An' each day she liked me better. An' each day I loved her more. An' I really thought I meant it. Well, you know—as maidens do. So I swore up to the altar. I would lead her as my bride— "Boy, you'll regret it. Just as sure as grapes make wine!"

But I thought I'd risk the chances. An' I figured I'd be true. For she'd sorta struck my fancy. Well, you know—as maidens do. So I swore up to the altar. I would lead her as my bride— "Boy, it's time to slip your halter!"

Now, I kinda wish I'd stayed. But I s'pose that I'll repeat it. When I find a lovin' face. But somehow I can't keep at it. All the time, in just one place.

Took a chance in Madagascar. Or each sweetheart's land to bid— Then along come marching orders. From that devil-voice inside!

Another victory for the Bolsheviks— Says a sergeant: "S.O.B. for the first time in military history they pull off a office."

RUTH GETS NO. 38 AND SOX LOSE, 7-0

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Ruth, the "King of Swat," cracked out his thirty-eighth home run yesterday before a crowd of 30,000 at Chicago and New York shut out the White Sox 7 to 0. It was the third circuit drive the Tarsan has hit off Williams. The ball went into the right field bleachers in the fourth inning.

Two games were taken by Detroit yesterday from Boston, 5 to 2 and 2 to 1. In the first Bush was hit hard and the Tigers piled up an early lead. The second was a tight pitching contest between Daus and Harper. Plagstad's double in the ninth brought in the winning run.

Cleveland continues to lead the league. Yesterday the Indians defeated the Senators 2 to 0. Coveleskie pitched effectively while Courtney's only lapse was in the eighth.

The Browns won from Philadelphia in an eighth inning rally, 10 to 8. Southern was batted from the mound in the seventh and Perry was sent out of the box in the eighth.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
In a great contest, the Brooklyn Dodgers were defeated by St. Louis 4 to 2. The Cards vindicated themselves for losing the first two games of the series. Marquard allowed 11 hits and three earned runs in the first seven innings.

Gravath's two bagger featured a rally by the Phillies that fell short and the Cubs won 4 to 2.

Aided by errors the Pirates defeated the Boston Braves 3 to 2. A

YANKEES CAPTURE OLYMPIC RIFLE MATCH

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Beverly, Belgium, Aug. 3.—In complete results of yesterday's pistol and small bore rifle events of the Olympic shooting contests indicate another triumph for the United States, which is believed to have gained first place for individuals and teams, in both events.

EMERALD GROVE
(By Gazette Correspondent.)
Emerald Grove, Aug. 3.—Party two were served at the auxiliary supper at Mrs. Hanson's Thursday.

As the regular auxiliary comes on Janesville day at the fair, a meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Lester, Thursday, Aug. 5. Picnic supper will be served.

The Royal Neighbors will meet among those going up.

ROBINSON PLAYS IN GOLF TOURNEY

Harry Robinson, Janesville Country club professional, has gone to Chicago to enter the Western open golf championship tournament opening tomorrow at Olympia fields.

Thirty-one starters are entered, including only nine amateurs, the field being from all over the United States.

Robinson is matched to pair with Bert Meyering, South Bend, Ind., at 10:35. Bob Peebles, Detroit Country club professional, is paired with Jack Morton, Rockford. Colin Kidd, Madison, meets up with Gordon Gibbons, Tampa, Fla., an amateur.

James Barnes, Sunset Hills, St. Louis, Mo., the present title holder, will have a battle on his hands in retaining the crown, as the calibre of the players entered this year is promising new recruits.

Walter Hagen, present national champion, is given the better chance for winning the title.

Following the play at Chicago, many of the competitors will move on to Toledo, among them Robinson.

KENOSHA TRIES TO GET "RUBBER" BEALE
"Rubber" Beale, the Samson first sacker, is the envy of every ball club that comes to Janesville or against whom the Samsons play. Kenosha's Shamrock Beale club who appeared here last Saturday and Sunday, was no different than the rest. The manager of the club put out feelers to come in Beale, but he went away unhappy when George said, "Nothing doing."

Reports that Ferring is after Dodge of Whitewater, to bring that famous twirler here are denied. Dodge has a strain of drug stores in the neighborhood of Whitewater and it is said would not leave that territory to come here.

OFFER $10,000 PURSE FOR BECKETT MATCH
Chicago, Aug. 3.—An offer for $10,000 to Joe Beckett, England's heavyweight champion, to box Tony Melonch of Milwaukee today was called to John Gehman, manager of Beckett in London, by Jarney Lightcoster, manager of the Chicago boxer. The bout, if Beckett accepts, probably will be staged in East Chicago, or Milwaukee.

INTERNATIONAL GOLF TEAM MATCH SUNDAY

Tellico, O., Aug. 3.—The International team match as a prelude to the national open golf tournament to be played over the Inverness course next week, will be staged on Sunday, according to announcement of Inverness officials.

The tournament proper is scheduled for August 10-12. In the team match which probably will be a contest of the British experts against the American contingent, Partners to Ed and Ted Taylor will make up half the English team. Walter Hagen and James Barnes will head the American contingent. Partners to the four have not been picked.

Here's how Joe's fish story really started

WE CLAMBERED down. THROUGH HEAVY thickets. AND WE ROWED the boat. OUT TO A rocky ledge. WHERE BLACK bass hide. THEN JOE let out a roar. FOR HIS cigar box. HAD FISH lines in it. INSTEAD OF smokes. AND HE refused with scorn. OUR CIGARETTES. HE SAID they were not. EVEN FOR bait. HE'D HAVE a man's smoke, OR NOTHING. AND FOR an hour. HE GOT nothing. NOT EVEN a bite. WHILE WE pulled 'em in. AT LAST he grunted. "GIMME A cigarette." AND IT just happened. HIS LUCK changed then. SO NOW Joe swears. THAT THOSE cigarettes. WERE SO blamed good. HE BAITED a hook. WITH ONE of them. AND CAUGHT a whale. PARTICULAR FISH, he says HIMSELF AMONG them. ARE JUST the sort. THAT THEY satisfy.

MANY a cigar smoker will agree that Chesterfields "satisfy." They let you know you're smoking. And yet they're mild—mild and smooth. What's the secret? Just knowing how to blend choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—just right!

Schlitz Is Not a 2-Day Drink—It Is Aged

In these days of "rapid-transit" beverages—turned out in a trifle over 24 hours, Schlitz purity is a matter of interest to your stomach. We admit to being over particular about the purity of Schlitz. Some people call us finical.

Where Schlitz is made, time is a matter of no importance, in comparison with aging and purity. Vessels are both chemically and mechanically cleansed. Every receptacle into which the pure yeast culture enters is sterile. Every tub, keg, barrel—every pipe and pump—is scalded every time it is used.

Schlitz is thoroughly aged, to save you biliousness. We believe that fermentation should be concluded before Schlitz reaches your stomach.

Then Schlitz is filtered through white wood pulp. It is put into sterilized bottles. Every bottle is washed four times by machinery. And these bottles are Brown Glass, to protect the drink from subsequent deterioration by ultra-violet rays of light.

When we say that Schlitz is pure—we mean free from germs; free from bacilli. Schlitz cannot ferment in your stomach. Its effect is as good as its taste. Test it today.
